Top Female Executives Recognized as Most Powerful & Influential Women in California

California, USA - the California Diversity Council hosted their 2017 California Diversity and Leadership Conferences this May in San Francisco and Los Angeles, California. The conferences featured multiple speakers presenting on a variety of topics emphasizing the importance of diversity and inclusion in the workplace. In addition, business leaders were honored for their achievements in the workplace. The Theme of this year's conference was "Fostering Equity Through Inclusion."

"I am always honored to be in the presence of such outstanding individuals who advocate for diversity and inclusion in the workplace," said Dennis Kennedy, Founder and Chairman of the National Diversity Council. "Their achievements epitomize the exceptional capabilities of individuals from all backgrounds."

Throughout the day, a variety of notable speakers led workshops discussing diversity, leadership, and power. Headlines such as "Millennials and the Workplace," "Leading with Emotional Intelligence," and "Unwritten Rules of Corporate America" are only a few of the exciting featured workshops. Attendees also had the opportunity to share their thoughts during question and answer sessions following each discussion.

This year, 11 top female executives were also recognized for their outstanding achievements and their undeniable commitment to workplace equality. The Most Powerful & Influential Women award highlights women that exemplify undeniable leadership. They demonstrate a strong commitment to community well-being and significantly impact company revenues and profitability.
